Bill, can you double check that Jesse's email is correct in the notice linked to our website? Aviles.jesse@epa.gov. I hope there's not a typo but there might be.

All, the web public notice has published.

<https://www.epa.gov/co/opportunity-comment-partial-deletion-vasquez-boulevard-and-i-70-superfund-site>

Sorry, but I made a mistake in linking to it from the site profile page. That will be corrected when those republish at noon.

Thanks everyone!

- The public notice document is missing the start date of the comment period. It currently has a ?.
- The press release is missing the link to the NOID.
- The update to the website, can Bill add a link to the Final Remedial Action report referenced in the last line of the first paragraph of section *What Is the Current Site Status?. The SEMS ID for the document is 1867122.
- Following Jasmin's suggestion I changed the Spanish version of the press release.

Subject: VB/I-70 NOID for OU1 to appear in Federal Register tomorrow

Hi everyone. Apparently, the VB/I-70 Notice of Intent to Delete Operable Unit 1, residential soils, is set to appear in the Federal Register tomorrow, Wed. Feb. 6. Attached are draft final outreach materials: public notice, press release, website announcement. Please review these and provide any last minute edits if you have them to me by noon today.

1. We will place a public notice in the Denver Post. A Spanish version will be placed in El Semanario. I'm still waiting to find out for sure what day they will run.
2. We will issue a press release.
3. We will send an email update to the CAG and others on our stakeholder list, which included local elected officials, business owners, and others.
4. We will place the NOID package in the local information repository and on our Website.
